

Town Report Contest

Sponsored by the Vermont Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD).

Developed in collaboration with DHCD, the Vermont League of Cities and Towns, the Office of the Vermont Secretary of State, and the Vermont Institute for Government.

The annual report can be one of the most comprehensive and effective ways to keep residents informed of what's going on in their community and local government.

While the annual audit report is the only legally required component, most Vermont municipalities use their annual report to provide valuable community information for residents. Reports provide a snapshot of the community, in many cases containing municipal departmental updates, budget information, marriage licenses issued, births and deaths, local organizations, awards, and more.

Voting is now closed for 2025. We thank all the nominators who submitted their town reports for consideration. Read on for more information about this year's award winners!

2025 Vermont Town Report Contest Award Winners

Round One

We conducted two rounds of judging for the contest. In the first round, nine award winners were selected from the 62 entries (!) by a panel of judges from VLCT, the Vermont Institute for Government, the Agency of Commerce and Community Development, and the Vermont Secretary of State's Office. Three winners were selected from each of three population categories: fewer than 1,000 residents, 1,000-5,000 residents, and more than 5,000 residents.

Round Two

Leading up to the annual VLCT Town Fair, we asked members to choose their favorite report from among the nine awardees. The report that garnered the most votes was announced as the Members Choice Award winner at VLCT Town Fair on October 8, 2025.

Congratulations to the Town of Guilford for winning this year's Members Choice Award!
