

What Does VLCT's Municipal Support Specialist Do?

Running a small Vermont town isn't easy, but you don't have to do it alone! The Vermont League of Cities and Towns (VLCT) offers hands-on help for the daily challenges facing local officials. At the forefront of this mission is Kathleen Ramsay, VLCT's Municipal Operations Support Specialist, who brings over 35 years of experience in town management in Hinesburg, Pittsford, Killington, and Middlebury to support your work.

Kathleen's Role: Your Expert Partner in Municipal Operations

Kathleen is here to help your town uncomplicate local government operations. With her deep background in Vermont municipal management, she provides tailored, one-on-one support to governing bodies and local officials. Here's just a sample of how Kathleen can assist your community:

- Analyzing and Building Administrative Capacity
- Project & Issue Tracking for Selectboards

If your town is grappling with stretched resources or considering its first Town Administrator or Administrative Assistant to the Selectboard, Kathleen can guide you step by step. She has developed a practical toolkit specifically for towns looking to create these positions for the first time, helping you evaluate needs, draft job descriptions, and navigate hiring.

Overwhelmed by competing priorities? Kathleen works directly with selectboards to develop "What's on Our Plate?" Gantt charts – a simple, visual tool to map out projects and issues for the coming year, so everyone knows what's coming up when.

Expanding the Toolkit

Kathleen has also developed additional toolkits on a variety of topics important to local governance, including:

- Hiring for Summer Recreation Programs
- Preparing for Summer Storms
- Highway Hiring
- Onboarding New Selectboard Members and Your Selectboard's Organizational Meeting

Upcoming Resources and Events

Kathleen is currently collaborating with VLCT's Government Finance Specialist, Marguerite Ladd, to develop toolkits for budgeting and capital budgeting. These valuable resources will be launched during the upcoming Muni Mornings with Kathleen + Money Matters with Marguerite webinar on Thursday, August 28.
