We're excited to share that we will soon launch a redesigned VLCT.org. The new website has been built to make it easier than ever for members to find the information, resources, and services they need.

Highlights of the new website include improved search functionality, streamlined navigation, enhanced handbook functionality (with improved printing capabilities), and new role-based resource pages tailored to the needs of specific municipal officials and staff. The updated site is designed to help you spend less time looking and more time finding the answers and tools you need. We look forward to unveiling the new experience in December/January. More information will be shared as we get closer to launch.

If you're interested in testing the new site before it launches, contact Lisa Goodell, lgoodell@vlct.org.
