

VTrans Vegetation Management Planning Survey

The Vermont Agency of Transportation needs to better understand what additional policy, guidance, or practices are required to provide a consistent, coordinated, and proactive approach to terrestrial vegetation management practices on lands the agency owns or manages. These lands include roadside right-of-way plus other developed areas such as park and rides, state-owned airports, and district offices. As part of this effort, VTrans has developed an online questionnaire aimed at external stakeholders to learn more about their experience with VTrans with respect to vegetation management issues around policy, practice and decision-making and about how VTrans can manage vegetation in the future.

The time to take the survey should not exceed 20 minutes. You can also include comments at the end of the survey. The deadline to take the survey is Friday, August 25. The link to the survey is below.
